Re: Proposed Use of ANTICHOKE for [REDACTED]

1. Background. [REDACTED] are a father-son combination who have worked as [REDACTED] for approximately 2 years. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] he was picked up (11 September 56) and since that time he was subjected to interrogation in an effort to clear up a number of discrepancies which clutter his explanations.

2. Present Status. After prolonged interrogation, there is still no satisfactory explanation about the initiation, duration, reasons for and content of [REDACTED] which appears to be the crux of the problem. [REDACTED] has resorted to hostile interrogation and to [REDACTED] an interrogation aid, but to little avail. [REDACTED] is pessimistic about the prospects of breaking [REDACTED] by conventional means and has repeatedly asked that a team be dispatched to [REDACTED] to administer ANTICHOKE. F

[REDACTED] Although the [REDACTED] cooperation is no longer considered viable, it is believed that we should now concentrate on getting as much truth as possible from [REDACTED] before eventually releasing him in order to (1) Exercise the maximum amount of control over him; (2) [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] effectively; (3) Learn as much as possible regarding [REDACTED] as regards this case.
